

CHÂTEAU GRAND CORBIN

2005

Grand Corbin 2005 is a beautiful wine, long on the palate, dense and powerful, incredibly young even at this stage. There's not a hint of aging: the classic sign of a great wine made for the long term.

A festival of flavors develops in the mouth, showing licorice, blackberries, olives and blueberries producing a soft yet powerful complexity. The finish brings a refined smoothness which imparts additional length.

The wine will be perfect with all cooked meats, cow cheeses, a bacon omelette, and numerous other family meals thanks to its superb construction. It will show best when transferred to a carafe for service. You can continue to age it awhile in a good cellar; in ten years it will still be waiting to give you pleasure.
